M Lab ~ Anti-Aging Treatment Serum

By METSV · April 23, 2010 · 0 Comments · 282 Views

M Lab Anti-Aging Treatment Serum: Formulated with 74% active ingredients. A synergistic complex of advance peptides, potent antioxidants, and high performance hydrators reduce the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles, even skin tone, promote firmness and restore the dermal hydration. Description: Anti-Aging Treatment Serum smoothes fine lines and wrinkles, firms the skin and improves clarity and radiance. A rich blend of anti-aging peptides help to reduce visible signs of aging while hydrators, vitamins and botanicals nourish, moisturize and illuminate the complexion. It encourages oxygen penetration in order to replenish and revive tired, stressed and lackluster skin. Vitis vinifera, a powerful antioxidant, inhibits free radicals and brightens skin. The complexion regains a youthful and healthy texture. Anti-Aging Treatment Serum features 74% clinically active ingredients.

METSV says: Look. It's plain and simple. M Lab has created a powerhouse of a serum here, kids. This little bottle, in my opinion, is the cadillac product of this line. With 74% active ingredients, it has worked magic on my skin and I'm only three weeks in....Three weeks and I'm not kidding you - my pores have pretty much vanished - gone. But then there's my nose...this may sound gross, but my nose always had teeny tiny blackheads all over it - my nose is pretty much the only oily area of my face - and those little blackheads are gone too. I can not even believe it - I've had that problem forever. The clarity, brightness, texture, and luminosity is back in the ol' mug....after a long hard winter and another year tacked on to my age....I've got a face that's in good shape! As far as ingredients/actives go, well, I couldn't pronounce mostly all of them, nor did I know what they did, so I googled a bunch of the longer ones, and every single one came up as a an active to aid in skin healing, rejuvenation, hydration, fine lines, etc....there are very few fillers in here. Is this serum inexpensive? No. Would I have on my own just said, "gee, I'll try this, it looks great." To be honest...probably...wait...most definitely NOT. But now that I've tried it, I'm rather hooked. It's really that good. The bottle will last such a long time b/c I need so little (see, I'm already trying to justify spending the money for bottle number 2!) and if I wait for a sale, maybe, just maybe I can shell out the bucks....it's STILL cheaper than surgery or botox, right? I just don't want to stop seeing this results...they are impressive and I am just so happy about that....this serum really is worth the investment....it is excellent.
